

Ysolde Duskmere

Chronicle, volume 1

Proud of a craft nobody appreciates pearl diver of Neon Meridian, a rain-soaked megacity

Volume 3 of 3 in the Ysolde Duskmere collection. The other volumes cover the rest of this character's record.

About this volume

Day-to-day records kept by Ysolde, pearl diver of Neon Meridian, a rain-soaked megacity, in no particular order of importance. Among the things Ysolde keeps at the Undermarket is a coil of rope; Ysolde calls it 'Old Patience' and will not explain why. It appears in these pages more often than it deserves.

Entries

Entry 1, summer of year 22

Ysolde found a sextant half-buried near the flooded lower rings and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. Ysolde found a iron kettle half-buried near the flooded lower rings and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. At the flooded lower rings, Ysolde taught a newcomer how to tell a real copper pipe from a fake one by weight alone. the Halcyon Syndicate sent a notice about the price of lamp oil. Ysolde read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Ysolde polished 'Old Patience', the coil of rope, and said nothing about it.

Entry 2, summer of year 22

the Halcyon Syndicate sent a notice about the price of lamp oil. Ysolde read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. A stranger asked Ysolde for the password to the workshop. Ysolde laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. Ysolde won 21 meridian scrip on a bet about the new curfew and spent all of it on supper.

Entry 3, spring of year 22

Someone left a clockwork bird on the doorstep with no note. Ysolde has a suspect and is probably right. At the flooded lower rings, Ysolde taught a newcomer how to tell a real spool of wire from a fake one by weight alone. Ysolde won 79 meridian scrip on a bet about the quarantine and spent all of it on supper. Ysolde found a signal flag half-buried near the flooded lower rings and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. Ysolde was hired to carry a glass float from the flooded lower rings to the Undermarket without opening it, and mostly succeeded.
