

Bram Marchetti

Chronicle, volume 7

Blunt, practical and allergic to small talk hydroponics technician of the Academy of Vell

Volume 9 of 10 in the Bram Marchetti collection. The other volumes cover the rest of this character's record.

About this volume

Day-to-day records kept by Bram, hydroponics technician of the Academy of Vell, in no particular order of importance. Among the things Bram keeps at the Hall of Echoes is a brass lantern; Bram calls it 'The Debt' and will not explain why. It appears in these pages more often than it deserves.

Entries

Entry 1, winter of year 28

Someone left a clockwork bird on the doorstep with no note. Bram has a suspect and is probably right. the Faculty of Applied Wonders sent a notice about the new curfew. Bram read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Someone left a bundle of letters on the doorstep with no note. Bram has a suspect and is probably right. Bram polished 'The Debt', the brass lantern, and said nothing about it.

Entry 2, autumn of year 28

Rumours about whether the bridge will hold reached the bell tower. Bram pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. The weather turned. Bram moved the signal flag indoors and wrote three lines to an old friend about the right way to mend a net. Someone left a grain scale on the doorstep with no note. Bram has a suspect and is probably right.

Entry 3, spring of year 28

Winifred came by asking about the right way to mend a net. Bram said nothing useful and made tea instead. At the bell tower, Bram taught a newcomer how to tell a real cracked compass from a fake one by weight alone. An old teacher visited unannounced. They argued about who really won the regatta for an hour and parted better friends than before.
