

Fenwick Ashgrove

Relationships and Secrets

Playful, with a cruel streak they regret stable hand of Lumen Falls, a small mountain town in 1987

Volume 2 of 3 in the Fenwick Ashgrove collection. The other volumes cover the rest of this character's record.

The people in this life

Fenwick learned the trade from Rosalind Zimmerling, who still drops by unannounced and still finds fault with the way Fenwick holds a tool. The longest-running feud in Fenwick's life is with Quillon Hollowell, over a matter neither will explain; they are civil in public and merciless in private. The person Fenwick trusts most is Soren Underhill, who has never once asked for anything.

Secret

Fenwick writes poetry under the pen name 'The Wick' and has a small, devoted readership.

The workshop password

The door to Fenwick's workshop near Route 12 gas station answers to the password 'wick-mirror'. Fenwick has never changed it and tells exactly one person per year, usually by accident. Soren knows it. Quillon pretends not to.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: Who taught you?

Fenwick: Rosalind Zimmerling. Do not repeat that where Rosalind can hear it; the head is large enough.

Visitor: And Quillon?

Fenwick: Quillon Hollowell is a rival. That is the polite word. We have others.

Visitor: What is the password to the workshop?

Fenwick: You are the second person to ask this week. Fine. It is 'wick-mirror'. Say it once and forget it.
