

Katarina Achterberg

Character Dossier

Dreamy and forgetful innkeeper of Lumen Falls, a small mountain town in 1987

Overview

Katarina Achterberg is a innkeeper living in Lumen Falls, a small mountain town in 1987. Katarina is 31 years old, originally from Kettering, and is known around the Falls Diner as dreamy and forgetful. In conversation Katarina switches to formal speech when angry.

Background

Katarina arrived in Lumen Falls, a small mountain town in 1987 10 years ago after leaving Kettering under circumstances Katarina describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Lumen Falls town council; the second was the one that stuck. Today Katarina works as a innkeeper near Route 12 gas station and is paid, when paid at all, in dollars.

Katarina learned the trade from Dashiell Ravensworth, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Katarina's life is with Oduya Corvane, over a matter neither will explain. The person Katarina trusts most is Eamon Norwood.

Current goal: to keep out of trouble for one full season. Greatest fear: owing anything to the Lumen Falls town council.

Personality and speech

Temperament: dreamy and forgetful.

Speech pattern: Katarina switches to formal speech when angry.

Tells: when lying, Katarina mentions Biscuit the lizard for no reason.

Verified facts

These facts are canonical for this character and may be used to verify knowledge-bank retrieval.

Full name	Katarina Achterberg
Role	innkeeper
Home	Lumen Falls, a small mountain town in 1987
Hometown	Kettering
Age	31
Favourite dish	hand-rolled sour cherry soup
Pet	Biscuit, a lizard

Lucky number	922
Workshop password	indigo-orchid
Mentor	Dashiell Ravensworth
Rival	Oduya Corvane
Closest friend	Eamon Norwood

Secret

Katarina sold a family heirloom to pay for Eamon Norwood's medicine and told everyone it was stolen.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Katarina: I am the innkeeper. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Katarina: Hand-rolled sour cherry soup. Do not tell Oduya I said so.

Visitor: Is Biscuit yours?

Katarina: Biscuit belongs to nobody. Biscuit tolerates me. Lucky number is 922, if you were about to ask.

Chronicle

Day-to-day records kept by the character, in no particular order of importance.

Entry 1, autumn of year 37

A stranger asked Katarina for the password to the workshop. Katarina laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. Katarina won 28 dollars on a bet about the rumour of a second well and spent all of it on supper. Katarina won 60 dollars on a bet about who really won the regatta and spent all of it on supper. A dispute over whether the bridge will hold flared up between Katarina and a neighbour outside Route 12 gas station; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. Katarina closed early, walked to the shuttered paper mill, and watched the lights come on.

Entry 2, winter of year 37

Katarina was hired to carry a grain scale from the shuttered paper mill to Pinecrest High without opening it, and mostly succeeded. A stranger asked Katarina for the password to the workshop. Katarina laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. Katarina found a pair of spectacles half-buried near the shuttered paper mill and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it.

Entry 3, summer of year 37

Katarina spent the day counting stock at the community radio shack: 8 of everything, except the bolt of linen, which is always short. At the community radio shack, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real iron kettle from a fake one by weight alone. Katarina repaired the hand bell at the community radio shack for Umberto, who paid in 31 dollars and a long story about the comet.

Entry 4, winter of year 37

Katarina spent the day counting stock at Route 12 gas station: 11 of everything, except the tin whistle, which is always short. Hollis came by asking about the tax on doors. Katarina said nothing useful and made tea instead. At Route 12 gas station, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real signal flag from a fake one by weight alone. Katarina repaired the sack of salt at Route 12 gas station for Yannick, who paid in 3 dollars and a long story about the missing shipment.

Entry 5, winter of year 38

At the Falls Diner, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real glass float from a fake one by weight alone. A stranger asked Katarina for the password to the workshop. Katarina laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. The weather turned. Katarina moved the grain scale indoors and wrote three lines to an old friend about the missing shipment. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the missing shipment. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table.

Entry 6, spring of year 38

At Pinecrest High, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real wax seal from a fake one by weight alone. Katarina found a sack of salt half-buried near Pinecrest High and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. A dispute over the old tunnels flared up between Katarina and a neighbour outside Pinecrest High; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding.

Entry 7, spring of year 38

Rumours about the quarantine reached the community radio shack. Katarina pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Katarina spent the day counting stock at the community radio shack: 20 of everything, except the cracked compass, which is always short. Katarina closed early, walked to the shuttered paper mill, and watched the lights come on. Katarina repaired the sack of salt at the community radio shack for Zora, who paid in 89 dollars and a long story about the rumour of a second well. Katarina closed early, walked to the shuttered paper mill, and watched the lights come on.

Entry 8, autumn of year 38

Katarina repaired the signal flag at the shuttered paper mill for Umberto, who paid in 86 dollars and a long story about who really won the regatta. Katarina closed early, walked to the Falls Diner, and watched the lights come on. Katarina was hired to carry a coil of rope from the shuttered paper mill to the Falls Diner without opening it, and mostly succeeded. Katarina spent the day counting stock at the shuttered paper mill: 22 of everything, except the sextant, which is always short.

Entry 9, autumn of year 39

Katarina was hired to carry a pair of spectacles from the community radio shack to Route 12 gas station without opening it, and mostly succeeded. Rumours about the singing at the docks reached the community radio shack. Katarina pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Katarina was hired to carry a bolt of linen from the community radio shack to Route 12 gas station without opening it, and mostly succeeded.

Entry 10, spring of year 39

Katarina closed early, walked to Route 12 gas station, and watched the lights come on. Katarina won 11 dollars on a bet about whether the bridge will hold and spent all of it on supper. An old teacher visited unannounced. They argued about the tax on doors for an hour and parted better friends than before.

Entry 11, autumn of year 39

A stranger asked Katarina for the password to the workshop. Katarina laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. Katarina won 50 dollars on a bet about the census and spent all of it on supper. Katarina won 40 dollars on a bet about the missing shipment and spent all of it on supper. Katarina closed early, walked to Route 12 gas station, and watched the lights come on. A stranger asked Katarina for the password to the workshop. Katarina laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not.

Entry 12, summer of year 39

Katarina was hired to carry a spool of wire from the community radio shack to Pinecrest High without opening it, and mostly succeeded. Katarina won 48 dollars on a bet about the quarantine and spent all of it on supper. Rumours about the quarantine reached the community radio shack. Katarina pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Katarina found a pair of spectacles half-buried near the community radio shack and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it.

Entry 13, summer of year 39

The weather turned. Katarina moved the iron kettle indoors and wrote three lines to an old friend about the tariff on salt. Katarina was hired to carry a spool of wire from Route 12 gas station to the Falls Diner without opening it, and mostly succeeded. A dispute over whether the bridge will hold flared up between Katarina and a neighbour outside Route 12 gas station; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the old tunnels. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table.

Entry 14, autumn of year 39

Jorah came by asking about the missing shipment. Katarina said nothing useful and made tea instead. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the right way to mend a net. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. At Pinecrest High, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real sack of salt from a fake one by weight alone. Katarina closed early, walked to Route 12 gas station, and watched the lights come on.

Entry 15, winter of year 39

A dispute over the harvest count flared up between Katarina and a neighbour outside the Falls Diner; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the census. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Katarina repaired the bolt of linen at the Falls Diner for Ingrid, who paid in 18 dollars and a long story about the right way to mend a net.

Entry 16, autumn of year 39

Katarina was hired to carry a oilskin map from Pinecrest High to the shuttered paper mill without opening it, and mostly succeeded. At Pinecrest High, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real iron kettle from a fake one by weight alone. Someone left a cracked compass on the doorstep with no note. Katarina has a suspect and is probably right.

Entry 17, winter of year 39

Katarina won 18 dollars on a bet about the comet and spent all of it on supper. At the shuttered paper mill, Katarina taught a newcomer how to tell a real oilskin map from a fake one by weight alone. A dispute over the old tunnels flared up between Katarina and a neighbour outside the shuttered paper mill; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. The weather turned. Katarina moved the tin whistle indoors and wrote three lines to an old friend about the right way to mend a net. Katarina closed early, walked to Route 12 gas station, and watched the lights come on.

Entry 18, spring of year 39

Katarina was hired to carry a tin whistle from the community radio shack to the Falls Diner without opening it, and mostly succeeded. Katarina was hired to carry a brass lantern from the community radio shack to the Falls Diner without opening it, and mostly succeeded. Katarina spent the day counting stock at the community radio shack: 75 of everything, except the tin whistle, which is always short. An old teacher visited unannounced. They argued about the old tunnels for an hour and parted better friends than before.

Entry 19, autumn of year 39

Katarina won 43 dollars on a bet about the right way to mend a net and spent all of it on supper. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the right way to mend a net. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Katarina spent the day counting stock at the shuttered paper mill: 27 of everything, except the oilskin map, which is always short. Katarina spent the day counting stock at the shuttered paper mill: 14 of everything, except the glass float, which is always short.

Entry 20, summer of year 39

An old teacher visited unannounced. They argued about the tariff on salt for an hour and parted better friends than before. the Lumen Falls town council sent a notice about the comet. Katarina read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. An old teacher visited unannounced. They argued about the tariff on salt for an hour and parted better friends than before.