

Wren Corvane

Character Dossier

Patient as stone innkeeper of the Emerald Court of Ardenne

Overview

Wren Corvane is a innkeeper living in the Emerald Court of Ardenne. Wren is 47 years old, originally from the Weeping Shoals, and is known around the Mirror Gallery as patient as stone. In conversation Wren mutters prices and measurements while thinking.

Background

Wren arrived in the Emerald Court of Ardenne 11 years ago after leaving the Weeping Shoals under circumstances Wren describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for House Ardenne; the second was the one that stuck. Today Wren works as a innkeeper near the royal mews and is paid, when paid at all, in crowns.

Wren learned the trade from Zeph Corvane, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Wren's life is with Anouk Stillwater, over a matter neither will explain. The person Wren trusts most is Corvina Underhill.

Current goal: to prove Anouk Stillwater wrong about the old tunnels. Greatest fear: birds indoors.

Personality and speech

Temperament: patient as stone.

Speech pattern: Wren mutters prices and measurements while thinking.

Tells: when lying, Wren mentions Admiral the raven for no reason.

Verified facts

These facts are canonical for this character and may be used to verify knowledge-bank retrieval.

Full name	Wren Corvane
Role	innkeeper
Home	the Emerald Court of Ardenne
Hometown	the Weeping Shoals
Age	47
Favourite dish	twice-cooked rosewater pudding
Pet	Admiral, a raven
Lucky number	882

Workshop password	meadow-quill
Mentor	Zeph Corvane
Rival	Anouk Stillwater
Closest friend	Corvina Underhill

Secret

Wren owes Anouk Stillwater a debt of 294 crowns that neither of them mentions.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Wren: I am the innkeeper. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Wren: Twice-cooked rosewater pudding. Do not tell Anouk I said so.

Visitor: Is Admiral yours?

Wren: Admiral belongs to nobody. Admiral tolerates me. Lucky number is 882, if you were about to ask.

Chronicle

Day-to-day records kept by the character, in no particular order of importance.

Entry 1, summer of year 9

Dorothea came by asking about the right way to mend a net. Wren said nothing useful and made tea instead. Zeph visited unannounced. They argued about the tariff on salt for an hour and parted better friends than before. The weather turned. Wren moved the spool of wire indoors, fed Admiral, and wrote three lines to Zeph about the census.

Entry 2, summer of year 9

The weather turned. Wren moved the clockwork bird indoors, fed Admiral, and wrote three lines to Zeph about the price of lamp oil. House Ardenne sent a notice about who really won the regatta. Wren read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Rumours about the harvest count reached the royal mews. Wren pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Zeph visited unannounced. They argued about the harvest count for an hour and parted better friends than before. A dispute over the right way to mend a net flared up between Wren and Anouk outside the royal mews; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding.

Entry 3, winter of year 9

A dispute over who really won the regatta flared up between Wren and Anouk outside the lower kitchens; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. Wren closed early, walked to the Sunken Garden, and watched the lights come on. Admiral followed at a distance. Someone left a signal flag on the doorstep with no note. Wren suspects Corvina and is probably right. A dispute over whether the bridge will hold flared up between Wren and Anouk outside the lower kitchens; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding.