

Osric Ashgrove

Character Dossier

Blunt, practical and allergic to small talk tram conductor of the Drowned Library beneath Old Cassilon

Overview

Osric Ashgrove is a tram conductor living in the Drowned Library beneath Old Cassilon. Osric is 51 years old, originally from Halvard, and is known around the Reading Well as blunt, practical and allergic to small talk. In conversation Osric refuses to say the word 'no' outright.

Background

Osric arrived in the Drowned Library beneath Old Cassilon 28 years ago after leaving Halvard under circumstances Osric describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Order of Wet Pages; the second was the one that stuck. Today Osric works as a tram conductor near the Stacks of Ash and is paid, when paid at all, in ink-weights.

Osric learned the trade from Ingrid Thornbury, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Osric's life is with Baptiste Hollowell, over a matter neither will explain. The person Osric trusts most is Dashiell Underhill.

Current goal: to prove Baptiste Hollowell wrong about the old tunnels. Greatest fear: a knock at the door after dark.

Personality and speech

Temperament: blunt, practical and allergic to small talk.

Speech pattern: Osric refuses to say the word 'no' outright.

Tells: when lying, Osric mentions Saucer the mouse for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Osric: I am the tram conductor. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Osric: Cold crab bisque. Do not tell Baptiste I said so.

Visitor: Is Saucer yours?

Osric: Saucer belongs to nobody. Saucer tolerates me. Lucky number is 343, if you were about to ask.
