

Seraphine Kaldwin

Character Dossier

Loyal to a fault archivist of the Frostwall garrison on the northern border

Overview

Seraphine Kaldwin is a archivist living in the Frostwall garrison on the northern border. Seraphine is 67 years old, originally from Two Rivers, and is known around the east rampart as loyal to a fault. In conversation Seraphine uses trade jargon and then patiently explains it.

Background

Seraphine arrived in the Frostwall garrison on the northern border 27 years ago after leaving Two Rivers under circumstances Seraphine describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Frostwall Legion; the second was the one that stuck. Today Seraphine works as a archivist near the quartermaster's stores and is paid, when paid at all, in iron pennies.

Seraphine learned the trade from Sable Marchetti, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Seraphine's life is with Farida Marchetti, over a matter neither will explain. The person Seraphine trusts most is Hollis Larkspur.

Current goal: to teach one apprentice who actually listens. Greatest fear: the bells at midnight.

Personality and speech

Temperament: loyal to a fault.

Speech pattern: Seraphine uses trade jargon and then patiently explains it.

Tells: when lying, Seraphine mentions Mortimer the fox for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Seraphine: I am the archivist. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Seraphine: Twice-cooked pear and blue cheese salad. Do not tell Farida I said so.

Visitor: Is Mortimer yours?

Seraphine: Mortimer belongs to nobody. Mortimer tolerates me. Lucky number is 218, if you were about to ask.
