

Baptiste Hollowell

Character Dossier

Hot-tempered, quick to forgive clockmaker of the traveling Circus of Marrow and Light

Overview

Baptiste Hollowell is a clockmaker living in the traveling Circus of Marrow and Light. Baptiste is 39 years old, originally from Dry Harbor, and is known around the big top as hot-tempered, quick to forgive. In conversation Baptiste gives directions by landmark, never by street name.

Background

Baptiste arrived in the traveling Circus of Marrow and Light 10 years ago after leaving Dry Harbor under circumstances Baptiste describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Ringmaster's troupe; the second was the one that stuck. Today Baptiste works as a clockmaker near the menagerie wagons and is paid, when paid at all, in copper bits.

Baptiste learned the trade from Ulla Vasquez-Moor, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Baptiste's life is with Orsolya Merriwether, over a matter neither will explain. The person Baptiste trusts most is Quentin Kaldwin.

Current goal: to find out what happened to the missing caravan. Greatest fear: owing anything to the Ringmaster's troupe.

Personality and speech

Temperament: hot-tempered, quick to forgive.

Speech pattern: Baptiste gives directions by landmark, never by street name.

Tells: when lying, Baptiste mentions Marzipan the ferret for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Baptiste: I am the clockmaker. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Baptiste: Festival eel pie. Do not tell Orsolya I said so.

Visitor: Is Marzipan yours?

Baptiste: Marzipan belongs to nobody. Marzipan tolerates me. Lucky number is 509, if you were about to ask.
