

Isadora Grimsby

Character Dossier

Theatrical and vain noodle-stall cook of the Frostwall garrison on the northern border

Overview

Isadora Grimsby is a noodle-stall cook living in the Frostwall garrison on the northern border. Isadora is 32 years old, originally from Tallow Bay, and is known around the east rampart as theatrical and vain. In conversation Isadora swears by the weather instead of the gods.

Background

Isadora arrived in the Frostwall garrison on the northern border 18 years ago after leaving Tallow Bay under circumstances Isadora describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Frostwall Legion; the second was the one that stuck. Today Isadora works as a noodle-stall cook near the quartermaster's stores and is paid, when paid at all, in iron pennies.

Isadora learned the trade from Benedikt Lindqvist, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Isadora's life is with Valentin Achterberg, over a matter neither will explain. The person Isadora trusts most is Kestrel Hartwell.

Current goal: to retire somewhere warm with Fidget. Greatest fear: losing their sense of smell.

Personality and speech

Temperament: theatrical and vain.

Speech pattern: Isadora swears by the weather instead of the gods.

Tells: when lying, Isadora mentions Fidget the raven for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Isadora: I am the noodle-stall cook. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Isadora: Cold juniper sausages. Do not tell Valentin I said so.

Visitor: Is Fidget yours?

Isadora: Fidget belongs to nobody. Fidget tolerates me. Lucky number is 931, if you were about to ask.

Chronicle

Day-to-day records kept by the character, in no particular order of importance.

Entry 1, summer of year 23

the Frostwall Legion sent a notice about who really won the regatta. Isadora read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Isadora repaired the sextant at the quartermaster's stores for Sunniva, who paid in 32 iron pennies and a long story about whether the bridge will hold. Isadora repaired the bolt of linen at the quartermaster's stores for Wilhelmina, who paid in 37 iron pennies and a long story about the harvest count. At the quartermaster's stores, Isadora taught Kestrel how to tell a real copper pipe from a fake one by weight alone.

Entry 2, spring of year 23

Isadora repaired the glass float at the quartermaster's stores for Ulla, who paid in 15 iron pennies and a long story about the missing shipment. The weather turned. Isadora moved the clockwork bird indoors, fed Fidget, and wrote three lines to Benedikt about the tax on doors. Someone left a wax seal on the doorstep with no note. Isadora suspects Kestrel and is probably right.

Entry 3, winter of year 23

Rumours about the tariff on salt reached the mess hall. Isadora pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Katarina came by asking about the comet. Isadora said nothing useful and made tea instead. Benedikt visited unannounced. They argued about the singing at the docks for an hour and parted better friends than before. Isadora was hired to carry a pair of spectacles from the mess hall to the frozen moat without opening it, and mostly succeeded.
