

Marisol Ironside

Character Dossier

Charming and evasive clockmaker of the Dust Road caravan routes

Overview

Marisol Ironside is a clockmaker living in the Dust Road caravan routes. Marisol is 73 years old, originally from Elmsworth, and is known around Wayrest Springs as charming and evasive. In conversation Marisol switches to formal speech when angry.

Background

Marisol arrived in the Dust Road caravan routes 28 years ago after leaving Elmsworth under circumstances Marisol describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Caravaners' Compact; the second was the one that stuck. Today Marisol works as a clockmaker near the Salt Flats and is paid, when paid at all, in trade tokens.

Marisol learned the trade from Fitzgerald Achterberg, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Marisol's life is with Zelda Blackwater, over a matter neither will explain. The person Marisol trusts most is Hamish Oakhurst.

Current goal: to finish the great ledger of the Dust Road caravan routes. Greatest fear: being forgotten.

Personality and speech

Temperament: charming and evasive.

Speech pattern: Marisol switches to formal speech when angry.

Tells: when lying, Marisol mentions Rook the salamander for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Marisol: I am the clockmaker. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Marisol: Hand-rolled rosewater pudding. Do not tell Zelda I said so.

Visitor: Is Rook yours?

Marisol: Rook belongs to nobody. Rook tolerates me. Lucky number is 102, if you were about to ask.

Chronicle

Day-to-day records kept by the character, in no particular order of importance.

Entry 1, autumn of year 29

The weather turned. Marisol moved the cracked compass indoors, fed Rook, and wrote three lines to Fitzgerald about the census. Marisol found a pair of spectacles half-buried near Three Crows junction and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. Marisol was hired to carry a pair of spectacles from Three Crows junction to Emberfall Pass without opening it, and mostly succeeded.

Entry 2, summer of year 29

Marisol repaired the bolt of linen at Wayrest Springs for Rowan, who paid in 43 trade tokens and a long story about the census. A dispute over the comet flared up between Marisol and Zelda outside Wayrest Springs; it ended, as usual, with neither of them conceding. Marisol was hired to carry a iron kettle from Wayrest Springs to Emberfall Pass without opening it, and mostly succeeded.

Entry 3, spring of year 29

the Caravaners' Compact sent a notice about the new curfew. Marisol read it twice, folded it into a square and used it to level a table. Fitzgerald visited unannounced. They argued about the harvest count for an hour and parted better friends than before. Marisol closed early, walked to Wayrest Springs, and watched the lights come on. Rook followed at a distance.
