

Juniper Stillwater

Character Dossier

Stubborn, principled and tired street medic of the harbor town of Saltmarsh

Overview

Juniper Stillwater is a street medic living in the harbor town of Saltmarsh. Juniper is 69 years old, originally from Kingsreach, and is known around the Old Quay as stubborn, principled and tired. In conversation Juniper speaks in short, clipped sentences and dislikes being rushed.

Background

Juniper arrived in the harbor town of Saltmarsh 18 years ago after leaving Kingsreach under circumstances Juniper describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for the Harbormasters' Guild; the second was the one that stuck. Today Juniper works as a street medic near Gull Street market and is paid, when paid at all, in silver marks.

Juniper learned the trade from Caspian Zimmerling, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Juniper's life is with Bram Norwood, over a matter neither will explain. The person Juniper trusts most is Calloway Castellan.

Current goal: to pay off the last of the debt by winter. Greatest fear: owing anything to the Harbormasters' Guild.

Personality and speech

Temperament: stubborn, principled and tired.

Speech pattern: Juniper speaks in short, clipped sentences and dislikes being rushed.

Tells: when lying, Juniper mentions Turnip the owl for no reason.

Chronicle

Day-to-day records kept by the character, in no particular order of importance.

Entry 1, winter of year 19

Juniper found a hand bell half-buried near Gull Street market and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. A stranger asked Juniper for the password to the workshop. Juniper laughed and said it was written on the wall, which it is not. The weather turned. Juniper moved the ledger indoors, fed Turnip, and wrote three lines to Caspian about the new curfew.

Entry 2, spring of year 19

Juniper repaired the wax seal at the Old Quay for Zubair, who paid in 26 silver marks and a long story about the tax on doors. Matthias came by asking about the census. Juniper said nothing useful and made tea instead. Juniper found a hand bell half-buried near the Old Quay and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it.

Entry 3, winter of year 19

The weather turned. Juniper moved the copper pipe indoors, fed Turnip, and wrote three lines to Caspian about the tariff on salt. Juniper found a signal flag half-buried near the drydocks and spent the evening trying to work out who had lost it. Rumours about the tax on doors reached the drydocks. Juniper pretended not to care and then asked everyone about it. Juniper spent the day counting stock at the drydocks: 18 of everything, except the wax seal, which is always short. Juniper spent the day counting stock at the drydocks: 87 of everything, except the sextant, which is always short.
